Blessed to be a Blessing

Genesis 12:2-3 (NIV)

Do we not require our children to learn many things of which they cannot see the meaning at first? And ought we not then to expect to find "deep things" when we begin studying the Word of God, and yet to believe that if we persevere in reading it the meaning of many of them will one day be made clear?

CARE AND CONCERN

MISSIONARY PRAYER REQUEST: In her update Joy reports seeing the power of Christ at work. Within her congregation He has moved in the hearts and lives of many people. Ten refugees accepted Christ even though it is perilous. One of the refugees praises Christ for being granted asylum after five years. She personally was counseling two women who experienced healing from terminal cancer. Joy and her congregation try to bring in more non-believers by offering ethnic foods at Thanksgiving and at Christmas. Prayers are requested for her congregation, for healing for Joy after a fall, and for new meeting spaces.

RADIO PROGRAM: Tune in Monday morning, February 10th from 10:00am – 11:00am on WHKP 1450 AM/107.7 FM for Beyond Words Radio: Christ Made Relevant with Steve Harris. Why is it that so many churches and Christians seem to be losing their connection with the world? When Jesus walked the earth 2,000 years ago, he related to everyone. Kings were challenged by him, children were welcomed to him, the downtrodden were encouraged by him, the sick were healed by him and his disciples followed him. If we are following his ways, should the biblical message of love and truth not also be relevant today? Ministry expert Steve Harris offers practical insights and tools to help us make the Gospel relevant by making Christ central and discipleship natural.
