

Stacy McClelland, Director of Children's Ministry

Stacy is a woman with Texas roots, who has always maintained a deep love for Jesus and children. Stacy holds a degree in Elementary Education, having spent many years in the classroom as a Special Education or Substitute Teacher. As wife to her pastor-husband, Rob, for over twenty years, they are blessed with three beautiful daughters. For many years, Stacy enjoyed the opportunity to manage their home and focus on raising their girls, while also partnering with her husband in ministry. She is armed with experiences of walking through the hardships of life with many, while also having had the opportunity to embrace beautiful moments of joy, grace, and overcoming with women and children alike. Likewise, it has been her honor and joy to serve and teach within Bible Study Fellowship as a Substitute Teaching Leader. Coming alongside other women to read, study, learn and grow in their understanding of the Bible and how it applies to their everyday lives has been where Stacy has discovered her "sweet spot" for teaching. Having traveled many parts of the world, as well as embarking on a podcast centered around the topic of parenting daughters, she yearns to come alongside, support, and edify others in and through their circumstances while pointing them back to Jesus. It is her joy in life to encourage, uplift, and connect with children, youth, and women in navigating "this thing called life," and she would love to connect with you today.
